

Dr. Dinh Duc Nha Nguyen (TONY)

I have published eight papers, including six in Q1 journals as the first author in top-tier venues such as TDSC, and one in a B-ranked conference. I have mentored students to publish a high-impact paper and contributed to an Elsevier book chapter. I have received multiple awards for academic excellence, secured a successful grant application, and won an international prize. My teaching roles have been highly rated, with positive feedback from students. I also have extensive experience working with industry partners. My expertise lies in cybersecurity, AI technology, network security, and quantum technology, particularly in machine learning and data science.
